MONTHLY PLANNER FOR DECEMBER
Grade III (2023-2024)

“Education is not preparation for life; education is life itself.” - John Dewey

Dear Parents,
Greetings!!

“As we step into December, may the classroom echo with the laughter of students, the rustle of turning pages, and the excitement of new discoveries.”

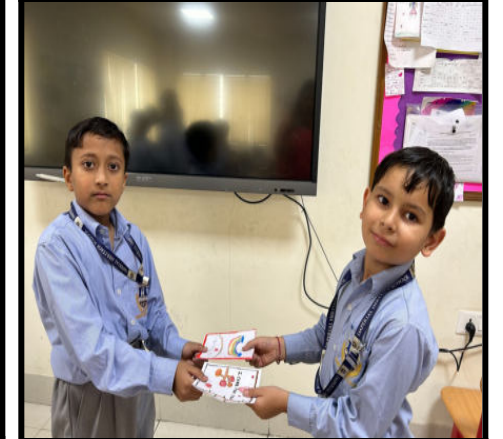

November, with its golden leaves and brisk winds, has been a month of growth and achievement for our school. Students have delved into their studies and embraced extracurricular challenges. With the last pages of November turning, we eagerly step into the enchanting embrace of December. The air is charged with anticipation, excitement and preparations as we approach the final stretch of the big Day of our school Annual Function. The school corridors reverberate with the sounds of music, footsteps, and enthusiastic voices as rehearsals kick into high gear. From the rhythmic beats of dance sequences to the harmonious melodies of the choir, every performer has dedicated countless hours in perfecting their part. The dedication and teamwork displayed during this phase are the backbone of our Annual Function.

Rooted in the belief that small acts of kindness can create ripples of positive change, the Caring and Sharing activity began with the simple idea of a donation drive – to cultivate a culture of compassion within our school. Students and educators alike embraced the opportunity to contribute to a greater good beyond the academic realm by donating household items for the children of Deep Ashram.

As the warmth of Diwali illuminates our homes and hearts, our school comes alive with the spirit of joy, unity, and caring. The spirit of caring and sharing is also expressed through creative endeavors. Students engaged in making handmade Diwali cards, which they gave to each other. These thoughtful creations carry not just the artistic flair of our students but also messages of warmth and good wishes.

In English, students did an activity on prepositions, where they expressed their understanding through art. Each student drew different drawings to illustrate various prepositions which made the lesson both enjoyable and educational. In the opposite-topic activity, students made a fish and wrote different opposites on the fish's gills. They enjoyed doing this activity. In E.V.S chapter- Water for Life, students made a poster on “save water” and spoke a few lines on it. Through this they realized how important it is to save water for the present and for the future generations. Furthermore in E.V.S chapter- Using Water Wisely to teach students how water gets circulated on Earth they were asked to make a water cycle. In Mathematics students learned the concept of capacity through an activity- “Which jar Has the most ”, in which students compared and measured the liquid in different jars. Furthermore in the Mathematics chapter - Geometry, students made scenery using different shapes.

The value of the month was Tolerance. It encourages students to build a culture of respect and look beyond the surface, appreciate the varied talents and strengths of our peers, and recognize that our diversity is our greatest asset. Students were sensitized about the importance of tolerance through discussions and presentations.
